We Believe In Going the Extra Mile

At UltraBuilt we produce the most durable, safe, and creative play sets on the market today. Our products are purposely designed with quality, not economy, in mind. Experience has shown that customers appreciate the value our play sets offer them. UltraBuilt products are built to last for more than a generation, with high-grade components and old fashioned craftsmanship. At every level of production, our sets are inspected and re-examined. You have peace of mind when you invest in the best...that is the UltraBuilt difference.

Because we believe that our products are exceptional, UltraBuilt is expanding to meet the growing consumer demand... making them available to families across America. A high level of personal service, craftsmanship and innovative thinking, sets our company apart from the competition. Join the expanding group of UltraBuilt dealers, and watch us exceed your expectations!

Distinctive Products and Value

At UltraBuilt, professional, state of the art, durable products are creatively designed with the whole family in mind... giving children a healthy, imaginative and active play environment while parents enjoy the high quality products, service and affordability. Mom and dad can even climb aboard!

Our play sets are simple to assemble, with pre-built components, parent friendly illustrated instructions and technical support. Your customers can easily assemble our products... or you may prefer to offer installation for added sales and profit.

Core Values

Our people distinguish UltraBuilt in the market, by providing a unique balance of personalized customer service, dependability, sales support and product excellence. We are honest and display integrity in everything we do. We feel a sense of privilege each time you choose to do business with us. We return our appreciation by maintaining the highest standards of honesty, integrity and quality that you can be proud to tell others about.

We are all working toward a common goal...your success!
